

My Strengths

1. Attention to detail: I am adept at recognizing and using detailed information.
2. Communication skills: I am adept at communicating detailed information and processes in writing and orally.
3. Curiosity: I am curious about technical subjects and dedicate energy to better understanding new material.

My Values

1. I am mission-focused, meaning I dedicate myself to meeting mission requirements established by the team I am on.
2. I value the CIA security triad and am devoted to providing storage and transit of secure, integrity-confirmed, confidential information – files, multimedia, etc.

Clarifying Questions

1. I am very interested in Cybersecurity because of the ongoing creative ways that threat actors use to attack individuals and organizations.
2. Recruiters and government employers are my audience for this professional statement
3. My dedication to research and perseverance have proven valuable in the past.